

- 10:30 Welcome – Jack Colby
- 10:35 STARS submission results – Lindsay Batchelor & Ashley Smith
- 11:10 Sustainability Council update - Jack Colby
- 11:25 Waste Characterization Results – Analis Fulghum
- 11:45 Around the table - Jack Colby
- 12:00 Adjourn

Information Items

- Join us for the Sustainability Town Hall on Jan. 20, from 9-11, to generate ideas for NC State's next Sustainability Strategic Plan (should have received a calendar invitation).
- NC State was awarded a Gold from Best Workplaces
- University Housekeeping was selected as the Silver Award winner for Higher Education in the 2015 Green Cleaning Awards by American School & University
- A team is planning an end-of-year CEST celebration. Please forward any input to the planning committee of Lindsay Batchelor, Meghan Lobsinger, Lisa Maune or Keith Smith.
- All sustainability-related events can be found here: <http://sustainability.ncsu.edu/get-involved/events/>

Next meeting: Feb. 15, 2016
(Standing meetings are 3rd Monday of the month from 10:30-12:00)

January is travel month

Change Your State
for a better you, NC State and world

Search

LATEST TRAVEL BLOGS

- Sustainability at Football Games Looks Like This
- Ways College Students Can Save Money While Saving the Earth
- How to Plan a 5K Race with Sustainability in Mind
- 4 Tips for Staying Fit While Saving Money on Campus
- 10 Reasons to Ride the Wolfline
- How NC State Makes Biking on Campus Easy

Ride the Wolfline
Hop on the Wolfline, a convenient network of campus buses powered by cleaner, low-sulfur diesel. Going to watch the Pack play at Carter-Finley or PNC Arena? Take the Reo Terror bus to football and basketball games to help reduce congestion and enjoy curbside drop off at the game. Don't want to pay for a campus parking pass? At Carter-Finley Stadium, Westgrove and the Food Lion at Avent Ferry Shopping Center, you can park for free and ride to campus on the Wolfline. Dig downtown? Use the Wolfprowl transit service to go downtown 9 p.m. to 3 a.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Need to go off campus? With the GoPass (free for students), travel CAT and Triangle Transit buses for free.

Ride a Bike
Bike around campus and shed roughly 50 calories per mile. If you don't have a bike, rent from Wolf Wheels, located at the Outdoor Adventures desk in Carmichael Gym. If cruising around campus isn't your thing, strap on your walking shoes and walk to class to burn calories and avoid driving.

Ride in a Carpool
Gather some friends and go places together. You'll save gas and money, reduce air pollution and have more fun. Let's face it, traveling with someone is way more interesting than driving alone.

RESOURCES

- Find Sustainability-Related Events
- University Sustainability Office
- NC State Transportation Office
- Wolf Wheels Bike Rental
- What NC State is Doing to Improve Transportation?
- Triangle Transit

GET THE LATEST UPDATES

NCSU.EDU/CHANGEYOURSTATE