Project Funding

CAC is a paid internship opportunity, however, your funding source does not need to be determined in order to submit this application. The Sustainability Office is happy to provide support in applying through various funding avenues, as indicated in the questions below. In the event that your funding is not yet determined at the time of submitting this application, please contact Jessica Bast (jmbast@ncsu.edu) when it has been finalized.

Over the course of the academic year, undergraduate students should be paid approximately $2,106 ($13/hour), and graduate students should be paid $2,430 ($15/hour) based on students working 6 hours/week for 27 weeks. If your department has a minimum wage requirement more than $13/hour or you'd like your student(s) to work more than 6 hours/week, then you will need to adjust your funding estimate accordingly.

If you'd like your student(s) to work more than 6 hours/week (no more than 20 hours/week), please indicate your desired hours requirement, which will be included in the position application:

Has your funding source already been determined?

- Yes
- No

If you marked "Yes" to the question above, what will be your funding source?

- Internal department funds
- Sustainability Fund
- Provost's Professional Experience Program (PEP) – limited to undergraduate students
- Federal Work Study
- Other

If you have not yet determined your funding source, what avenue(s) do you plan to pursue?
