

10:30 Welcome - Jack

10:35 Meet an EcoVillage student – Andrew Harrell

10:40 2015 Green Brick Awards & Plan Approval – Walt Robinson

10:55 Mid year tactic check in – Jack Colby

5 minute report per person

- Purchasing & Waste Reduction – Terry Allen & Lauren McKinnis & Laura Browning
- Transportation – Michael Ousdahl & Scott Jennings
- Green Development – Lisa Johnson & Lisa Maune
- Dining – Keith Smith & Chris Dunham
- Energy & Water – Paul McConocha
- Community & Culture – Tracy Dixon
- Academics & Research – Bill Winner

11:50 Earth Month preview – Carla Davis

11:55 Around the table – Jack Colby

Information Items

- The Sustainability Fund is accepting proposals, more: go.ncsu.edu/SustainabilityFund
- The Winter Holiday Energy Saving Initiative avoided $274,987 this winter break and over $2.76 million since 2005.
- The Staff Wellbeing Survey results showed that 99% of staff think NC State's commitment to sustainability is important.

Next meeting: Feb. 27

Standing meetings are Fridays at 10:30 every 4-6 weeks

January is sustainable travel month February is wellness month

The screenshot displays the 'Change Your State' website interface. At the top, the main heading reads 'Change Your State for a better you, NC State and world'. Below this is a navigation menu with categories: FOOD, ENERGY, ZERO WASTE, COMMUNITY, TRAVEL, WELLNESS, WATER, and WHY?. The 'Travel' section is active, featuring a large image of a red and white campus bus. To the left of the image are social media sharing icons for Facebook, LinkedIn, StumbleUpon, and Twitter. Below the image, a text block encourages reducing driving to save money and reduce pollution, suggesting alternatives like the 'Wolfline' campus bus. Three featured articles are listed: 'Ride the Wolfline', 'Ride a Bike', and 'Ride in a Carpool'. On the right side, there is a search bar, a 'LATEST TRAVEL BLOGS' section with several article thumbnails, and a 'RESOURCES' section listing various sustainability-related links. At the bottom right, a red button says 'GET THE LATEST UPDATES' and the URL 'NCSU.EDU/CHANGEYOURSTATE' is displayed.